WHO WE ARE:

Young Brothers has been an integral part of the Hawai'i community for over 115 years. Young Brothers is a local company that employs 360 local residents and has made substantial investments in its business to provide interisland freight handling and transportation service that is: regular and frequent; universal and comprehensive; reliable; and efficient and affordable.

ORIGIN:

Brothers Herb, William, and Jack Young established Young Brothers in 1900. Thirteen years later the firm was incorporated as Young Brothers, Limited, and expanded to provide ocean towing, rescue service and barge transportation between the islands. Young Brothers got its start in the interisland market by providing ocean transportation services between O'ahu and Moloka'i.

OWNERSHIP:

In 1999, Saltchuk Resources, Inc., a Seattle-based company, acquired Young Brothers. Saltchuk is a privately owned family investment company formed in 1982. Saltchuk includes a large family of diversified transportation and distribution companies that support each other in fulfilling their respective missions. Saltchuk companies serve the continental U.S., Alaska, Hawai'i, and Puerto Rico, and conduct international operations on behalf of U.S. customers.
